

Pepper Varieties

All varieties carried in 3 1/2" pots

|                      |  |             |
|----------------------|--|-------------|
| Anaheim Chili | Deep green turning red. Known as "green chilies".Great in soups and vegetable dishes, roasted, dried or canned.  | Medium Hot  |
| Ancho         | Fresh (poblano) or dries (ancho).Great for stuffing, grilling, soups and sauces.   | Medium Hot  |
| Cayenne       | Good for drying or sauces. Use red or green.Hot, biting flavor. Used ground as a spice.  | Very Hot    |
| Garden Salsa  | Green ripens to red.Great for salsa, sauces and pickling.  | Mildly Hot  |
| Gold Bell     | Sweet, mild flavor. Excellent in salads and as snacks.Great baked, grilled or sauteed.   | Not Hot     |
| Green Bell    | Sweet, mild flavor. Excellent in salads and as snacks.Great baked, grilled or sauteed.Matures to red if left on the vine. This is more difficult in Minnesota due to the shorter growing season. | Not Hot     |
| Habanero      | Wrinkled green fruit ripens to yellowish orange.Small in size. Very hot with subtle fruit flavors.   | Blazing Hot |
| Hungarian Hot | Yellow pepper turns red at maturity. Good for canning, salads, pickling and salsa.   | Mildly hot  |
| Jalapeno      | Hot, spicy flavor. Great pickled, in salsas, dips and as appetizer.  | Hot         |
| Pepperoncini  | Good fresh or for pickling. Sweet, somewhat salty flavor.Great as an appetizer or in salads  | Mildly Hot  |

Serrano                      Good for pickling or sauce.                      Very Hot Thin skin, meaty flesh.

Super Chili                      Intense flavor. Great for sauces, salads, soups, dips                      Hot and pickling.

Sweet Banana                      Yellow turning red. Good for frying. Sweet, mild flavor.                      Not Hot Good for salads, pickling, salsa, soups and sauces.

Thai Hot                      Ornamental-can be dried for fiery seasoning.                      Very Hot Great for stir fries. Very hot flavor is lingering.

